What is Tribonet?

Founded in 2016

What is the goal?

Mission:

- Popularize Tribology
- Stay Tuned & Inspired
- Share knowledge in Tribology

Tribonet project's goal is to popularize and raise awareness of tribology among engineers, researchers, students and enthusiasts.

The latest tribological developments and conference reviews can be found on Tribonet.org. The site also counts with a tribology-wiki which works as a database for the main concepts in the field of tribology. Additionally, a set of calculators are offered on Tribonet for the public use of the tribology community. Finally, do not forget to check the Tribonet's calendar with the main events around the year.

The project is designed to be interactive: everyone can contribute by sharing popular science articles, news and related documents or help us to expand the Tribology Wikipedia. Please do not hesitate to contact us at administration@tribonet.org
